

Guided Tour of South Carolina

One of the many buildings and restaurants located around the city of Columbia.

This is the area that's called the horseshoe. It is located by the student dorms and is the place where people just go to hang out and relax.

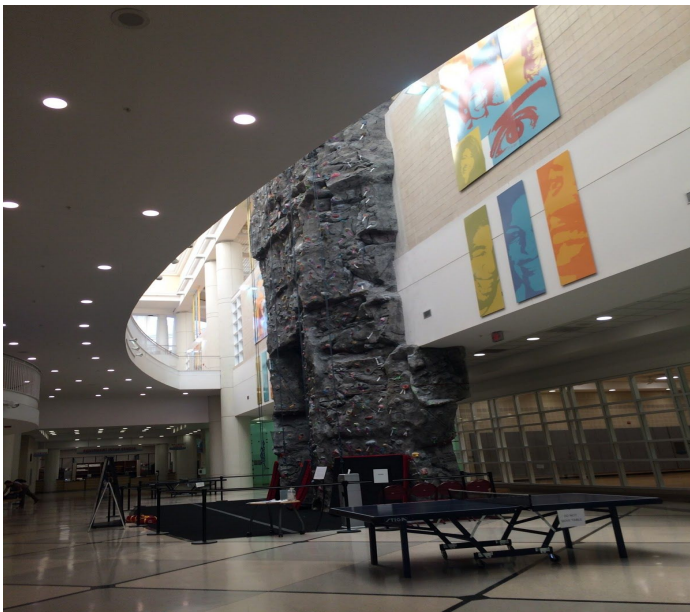

This is the fountain and pond that's in front of the library on campus.

This is the library. It has seven floors: four underground and three up top. It's used for tutoring, studying, and doing homework.

This building is the president of the university's house. It's in the horseshoe located right across from the student housing.

This a part of the Strom Thurmond Wellness and Fitness Center. It has a rock wall, indoor track, basketball courts, weight rooms, and an indoor and outdoor pool.

This is Columbia's historical building.

This is one of the few veteran memorial shrines in Columbia.
