

Job Training for a Special Education Teacher

To become a Special Education Teacher you have to have a Bachelor's degree; some states require a master's degree. You are required to have a student teaching internship at a school somewhere. Also you need your teacher licensure/certification and may need specialty certification depending on the students needs.

Teaching is the one profession that creates all other professions.

I really like this quote because without teachers, we wouldn't have the opportunity to get the chance to chose what or who we wanted to be. Being a special education teacher will be rewarding and I will get to help special needs kids have the same ability to learn as much as student in regular classes.
