Conservatory of Music

This picture is of the college I wish to attend after high school, CCM.

The College

Conservatory of Music is internationally renowned and a great school for the arts. In 1878, the College Conservatory of Music was founded. It opened with 500 day and evening students and was held in Dexter Hall, which is relative to the new Music Hall. CCM's music education program serves about 75 students and offers a bachelor's degree and master's degree. It is a program that integrates a high quality music training environment.

The in-state tuition at the College Conservatory of Music is $12,206 and their acceptance rate is 26%. CCM was honored as the sixth best university in the country for pursuing a graduate degree in music. Their annual calendar has nearly 1,000 yearly events.
