

Cumberland College

Cumberland College was born in 1913. The school became the University of the Cumberlands in 2005. It was founded by a group of Baptist Ministers in Kentucky and its purpose was to prepare young adults to become servant leaders. Then it became a private baptist college. It is located in Williamsburg, Kentucky.

This is Archer Hall, which is a women's dorm. This hall provides fully furnished rooms with sofas and couches. There is a kitchen, study area, computer room, laundry room and workout room.

This is Gillespie Hall, which is the most important to me because it is just for freshman women. This hall includes the same amenities, plus a community television and microwave. This is one of the newer dorms, and I like how it is just for freshman, so all the girls have something to relate to.

This is the Grace Crum Rollins Fine Arts Center. I would enjoy coming here when I don't have classes because I enjoy music, dancing, and art. This building showcases theater, communications, and music.

I really enjoy this campus, because it is the perfect size for what I am looking for. It has just the right amount of students and all the amenities I need. The tuition of Cumberland is $32,000, because of it being private. This includes room and board.

This is the Psychology department which is where I would like to study. It has a big department of professors and students. The University of the Cumberland also allow an online course for psychology.

This is the chapel where church is held every Sunday. Having a church on campus is really awesome for me because I attend church on Sundays, so it is important that they had one too.

They have a really nice athletic program. I like to be involved in sports and go watch the games, so when I found out that they have a lot of different sports and trainings it made me more interested.
