

Special Education Teacher and What They Must Learn in Order to do this Job:

In order to do this job, you must learn how to do a lot of things. You must learn how to put your needs second and the child's needs first. Meaning, you must be willing to put your life aside for the time being. The child is going to need a lot attention, love and care. Their parent is trusting you with their handicapped son or daughter. Also you must have positivity around the child. You will be their company and leader for the whole day, so you need to be responsible for keeping them happy and upbeat.

“It takes a special person to light that fire, to raise our children's expectations for themselves and never give up on them, no matter how challenging it might be. All of us are here because, at some point, somebody did that for us.”

I found this quote about finding a special person to raise the child's expectations and to never give up on them. That special person cannot give up on the child and they need to be very encouraging and patient with the child and their weaknesses. Being patient, encouraging, caring, and very confident in the child will make a bigger impact on the child and the parents than you can imagine.

Work Cited

“Top Ten Qualities of a Special Education Teacher.” All Education Schools. 2016.

www.alleducationschools.com/special-education/teaching-special-education/.

Accessed 20 Oct. 2016.