

Sports Agent

My career of interest is to be a Sports Agent. It's been my dream since I was a freshman. I used to want to be a sports commentator but I realized you pretty much have to play a professional sport to do that. To do this you should prepare for the major before you even get to school. Get familiar with the field to make getting your degree in either Sports Management or business easier. Also you need to take a communications class to be able to talk to an athlete. When you get your bachelor's degree you will go to get your agency license to be able to get hired. They're not required, but it helps to making the job finding easier.

Sports Agents usually take around 5-10 percent of an athlete's contract plus the money from their agency. Which means if you're a good agent and got good athletes to sign with you you're making some pretty good money. Although the pay is good sports agency is one of the hardest jobs to keep because you mess up once and you're usually going to be fired.

It's a hard career but with my communication skills and sports background I think it fits me very well!

Work Cited

Com, Study .. "Become a Sports Agent | Education and Career Roadmap." Study.com.

Study.Com, 21 Oct. 2016. Web. 21 Oct. 2016.

Com, Study .. "Sports Agent: Employment Info & Requirements." Study.com. Study.com,

21 Oct. 2016. Web. 21 Oct. 2016.