

Sports Agent Tools and Equipment

A sports agent would need multiple electronic devices. For communication and looking up stats.

Reasons for these are a sports agent gets to pick who he or she wants to sign so having a laptop allows the agent to lookup stats and injuries on players to see how good they truly are.

They would need a cellphone of course to get a hold of athletes, team owners, and coaches. They usually have multiple phones and generally it's one for business and one for their personal life.

Agents do not have a wide variety of tools but there is a lot they can do with the tools.
