

Kaitlyn- Labor and Delivery Nurse: What You Need to Know

In order to become a labor and delivery nurse, you should take any possible science classes while in school. Continued education can vary; you may need your Bachelor's degree, and/or Associates degree. You must pass the National Council Licensure Examination-Registered Nurse test. Here are the four major steps you should take in order to get this job.

Step one: Pursue nurse training

Step two: Become a registered nurse

Step three: Gain work experience in labor and delivery nursing

Step four: Obtain certification