

Kent State University Campus

I visited Kent State University. I enjoyed my visit because our tour guides were very friendly and explained everything. The Campus was gorgeous and huge.

As you can see this is a sculpture right next to the Fashion and Art classes.

This is the honors college dorms where all honor students can live if they choose to. One of the girls that were giving me a tour lived there and said it was really neat.

This is Bowman Hall; it's a classroom. It's located in the main campus by the sidewalk that leads almost everywhere.

This is what Kent looks like from the parking lot; as you can tell, they're under construction and will be until fall next semester.

This is the 12 story library; It has everything you need: quite floors, tutors, books, computers, food.
