

UC college of interest

The University of Cincinnati was founded in 1819 and is the oldest institution of higher education in the city of Cincinnati. The in-state cost of going to UC is $11,000. The out of state cost is $26,334. In 1906, UC created the first cooperative education program in the world. For a long time it was the second largest municipal college in the country. The application process is not as hard as people think it would be. First, you take the ACT and get a 22 on it. When you apply, have ACT or SAT scores ready to be sent out. Once you have all of your things together in a good time, you can confirm your admission, they will get you in the system, and you will be notified if you are accepted. The campus is very friendly and the people are very welcoming. When you walk around down there you feel like it is a little village; the dorms are very roomy: not too small not too big just right. People that are going to attend this school will be visiting one of the best schools in the country.
