

Equipment Used In Psychology

Treatment table, where patients lay to relax. Quality treatment tables are sturdy and have plenty of padding to ensure that no stress is placed on the patient.

Ultrasound equipment can be used in many different ways. It can identify areas of poor blood flow or stressed, cracked or fractured areas under the skin.

Exercise Ball helps with coordination and balance.

Mini camera to record sessions.